Mission Statement

The mission of the Edmond Quilt Guild is to preserve, teach and share the history and art of quilting

President's Report- Alice Kellogg

It is with a heavy heart that I write my last President's Report for this newsletter. I have really enjoyed the past three years that I have been your president and leader. It is with the utmost confidence that I leave the job to Laura James. She will be a great president and I look forward to bigger and better things for Edmond Quilt Guild.

Part of the president's job is to report what happened in the board meetings. At the last board meeting, there was a vote to give me next year's membership. I only accepted as long as all the presidents will receive a year's membership at the end of their term. The measure was passed and it is now policy. So if you would like to save $20, you have two ways in which to do so. You can become the next president in 2009 or give a program for next year. On our limited budget, we need members to share their quilting experiences or techniques. Don't be shy! Come talk to me about it.

The talk from Joan Hess of the Oklahoma Centennial Commission was exciting and informative. I am ready for all the celebrations to start. It really put me in the mood for our Centennial Quilt Show.

And speaking of our quilt show, I hope all of you are thinking, working or deciding on quilts for our show. Let's put Edmond on the map and show everybody how creative and talented we are.

Signing off and switching to Program Director.

Vice-President- Adrian Thompson

Are your Crayon Challenge quilts done?

Bring your finished quilts to the November meeting. Check them in with me at the back of the meeting room. We will have a Viewer's Choice ballot, as we have had in the past.

What color is Sienna anyway?

Quilt Show Update

Flyers advertising our Quilt Show are now available. They were available at the December meeting. We will have more available at the January meeting. We will have these same flyers at the Winter Quilt Show on their free information table. We also have a 1/4 page ad in the Winter Quilt Show Program.

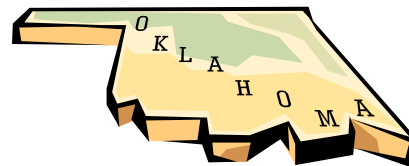

We plan to have the Categories for our Quilt Show available to you at the January EQG meeting.

Our T-shirt will carry the same logo as the flyer and we will be taking orders about March, 2007.

A reminder that to enter your quilts in our Quilt Show, you must be a member of EQG by Feb. 1, 2007. Get your membership in NOW!

Hope you have a great 2007 and make many beautiful quilts.

Lee Gray

Since it is such a busy year, it is a good time to make something simple and easy to finish. I thought we would start out with cheery preemie quilts for Children's Hospital. Just as the little ones sizes vary, so do the quilts, from 15 inches square to 24 inches square and all sizes in between. An incubator cover is used to drape over the top of the incubator to keep the bright lights out of the little ones eyes and is 22 inches by 27 inches.

Also I was contacted by Citizens Caring for Children a week before Christmas with a request for 24 twin size quilts. There are 24 young men living in a dorm each requesting a quilt. So coming up is a work day or two at Hancock Fabrics dates TBA to make some fuzzy denim/flannel quilts. I believe I have all the denim and flannel needed to make these quilts.
