President's Report— Laura James

It's 2008! What will the New Year bring for you? As we put away the Christmas decorations for the next 11 months it's time to take a moment to look ahead to 2008 and think about the new opportunities that come with a new year. I'd like to challenge each of you to try something new in your quilting life. If you've never participated in a guild challenge, consider that as a possibility. Not yet officially in office, Lee is already cooking up some great ideas for us this year in terms of fun quilting challenges. If you never joined in and made a quilt for loving touch, please think about getting involved in with Cheryl and her devoted group of enthusiastic and loving quilters. How about a personal challenge to try a technique you may feel a bit intimidated by or simply have never had the opportunity to try yet. Have you ever tried paper piecing, free motion quilting, or how about hand appliqué? You might consider taking a quilting class either through the guild or a quilt shop.

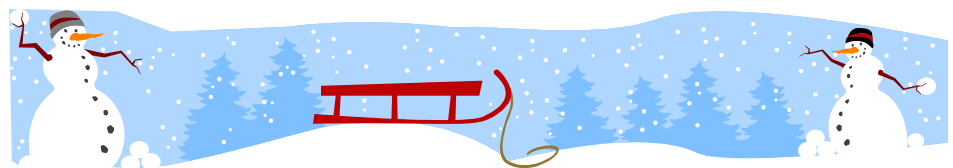

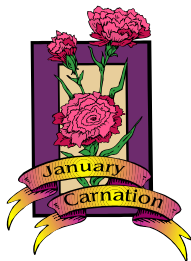

As you ponder the New Year, and whether you list them as resolutions or new opportunities, I hope you list staying involved with EQG and learning something new in quilting as a goal for 2008.

Wishing you all a bountifully blessed new year, Laura

Mission Statement

The mission of the Edmond Quilt Guild is to preserve, teach and share the history and art of quilting

Program Report - Alice Kellogg

Whew! I am so glad that Christmas is over and we can concentrate on quilting again. The guild has some exciting programs coming in the near future. Susan Lucky will be with us in January. She is an inspiration to everyone that she touches. We also have the Lola Jenkins workshop on January 19. If you have ever wanted to make a portrait quilt and didn't know where to start, this is the workshop for you. Give me a call if you want to be in this class. 348-2233

I have saved the best till last! Together with NAQG, we have contracted Karen McTavish to speak to us in June. She is a long-arm quilter/instructor and has a nationwide reputation with her "McTavishing" techniques. Mark your calendars now and plan your vacation around this event.

January 15: Susan Lucky will speak to us about her "Legacy of Hope" project and working with the ABC baby quilt project.

January 19: Workshop with Lola Jenkins

February 19: Our own prize-winning Marilyn Karper will talk to us about quilting and photography.

March 18: TBA

April 15: Author and instructor, Debbie Bacon from Tulsa, OK.

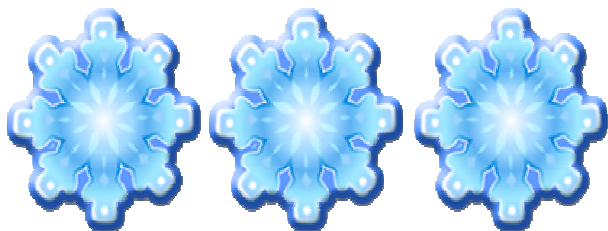

May 20: Karen Corff from Children's Hospital will show us how our preemie quilts are used.

June 17: Together with NAQG we will host Karen McTavish from Duluth, MN.

Membership Report– Debi Pickens

Happy New Year! I'm writing at 5am just before we leave for our big adventure to the OSU bowl game in Phoenix. I wonder how many quilt stores I can find between here and there. I already have several mapped out. We had 54 members enjoy our Christmas Party. Many of you have renewed but those who have not need to bring your check book and pay Patti in January. The best thing about the membership job is getting to know a lot of you. I will miss that part. The worse thing is that now I will be able to shop the vendors at each meeting and that could be dangerous for my budget. Membership cards will be ready for those who have paid at the next meeting. Please pick yours up so Patti doesn't have to carry them around.

Happy New Year--Debi Pickens

Loving Touch– Cheryl Boles

We donated 14 quilts to teen boys in foster care through Citizens Caring for Children. They were thrilled! There are some more quilts yet to go and hope to get them delivered before Valentines Day. In conjunction with our new vice president, Lee Gray, we will be offering quilt kits to be put together, using the lovely fabrics donated by Quilters Corner and My Sisters Quilt.
