Mission Statement

The mission of the Edmond Quilt Guild is to preserve, teach and share the history and art of quilting

President's Report— Laura James

The next time I find myself in a creative slump or quilting rut, I'm going to remember Lola Jenkins advice and her energetic encouragement to "just do it." I hope everyone left the meeting with a renewed feeling of confidence about color choices. Lola gave a great presentation with inspiration for both beginning and seasoned quilters alike.

Thanks to those of you who filled out the quilt show comment cards at the last meeting. I appreciate your taking the time to respond especially since you've given me some wonderfully clever theme ideas. Anyone with comments about the show is welcome to share them with the board. The four questions I'm seeking input on are:

The thing I liked best about our quilt show was ...

What we could do to improve our next quilt show is to ...

I think we should have our next show in 2009 – 2010 – 2011 - or _____

I've got an idea for the THEME for our next show _____

Finally, as I contemplate the upcoming feast of roast turkey, cranberry sauce, savory stuffing and pumpkin pie I'd be negligent if I didn't also stop to count my many blessings. It's a long, long list, but EQG is on it.

Happy Thanksgiving and see you in November, Laura

Program Report - Alice Kellogg

Following Lola Jenkins on her journey thru quilt making was almost as joyous as the fun she had designing and making the quilts. Just get out there and "Do It!" She had so much fun at our guild meeting that she expressed an interest in becoming a member. We may be rubbing elbows with her every month!

Some of you expressed an interest in having Lola give a workshop and I am in negotiation with her to have a "face" workshop in January. I am striving for a Saturday. I should have all the details by the November meeting.

November 20: Quilt Bingo! Lots of fun and lots of prizes.

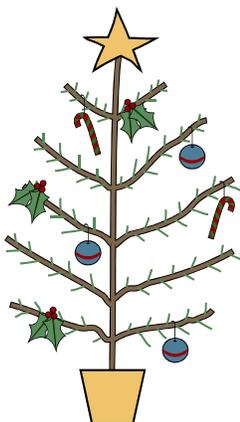

December 18: Christmas party

January 15: Susan Lucky will speak to us about her "Legacy of Hope" project and working with the ABC baby quilt project.

February 19: Our own prize-winning Marilyn Karper will talk to us about quilting and photography.
